

Source: UK House of Commons

Date: March 23, 2022

URL:

<https://questions-statements.parliament.uk/written-questions/detail/2022-02-23/128369>

Ref: <http://www.me-net.combidom.com/meweb/web1.4.htm#westminster>

[Written Answers]

Chronic Fatigue Syndrome: Coronavirus

Vicky Foxcroft

To ask the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care, whether individuals with a diagnosis of (a) myalgic encephalomyelitis or (b) chronic fatigue syndrome will be classified as vulnerable for the purposes of the allocation of free covid-19 tests.

Maggie Throup

From 1 April 2022, free universal access to lateral flow device tests for the public in England will end. We will continue to make testing available for a small number of at risk groups. Further details on eligible groups will be made available in due course.

(c) 2022 UK Parliament